UHS BPA Scores Top Awards At Nationals

Submitted by Angela Hartman

Four students from Underwood participated in the 51st Annual Business Professionals of America (BPA) National Leadership Conference in Orlando, Florida May 10-14. They competed with 5,500 top students from across the United States — the pinnacle of BPA competition.

To qualify: Members must excel at both the regional and state level to advance to the national competition. Underwood had three students advance through competitive excellence. At the state level Erin Andersen finished 3rd in her contest, Administrative Support Research Project. Asante Creek also finished 3rd in her contest of Prepared Speech. At the state level in Extemporaneous Speech Kindra Peterson earned 4th place. This qualified the ladies to advance to the national competition.

National Awards earned: Underwood's members were very successful in the national competition. Erin Andersen placed 3rd in the nation in her contest (left), Administrative Support Research Project. Kindra Peterson (top middle left) placed 7th in Extemporaneous Speech. Asante Creek (top middle right) placed 19th in Prepared Speech. In another contest - National Merit Scholar - that all members could take, Theo Johnson (top left) placed 6th in the nation, Kindra Peterson placed 7th, and Erin Andersen placed 13th!

Also recognized at the National Conference for earning National Torch Awards (showing leadership, service, cooperation, knowledge, patriotism, and friendship) from Underwood were Erin Andersen, Carter Peterson, Jill Maahs and Theo Johnson.

In addition, Underwood's Chapter Vice President and Minnesota BPA's State Historian, Theo Johnson ran for a position as a national officer. The competition was the toughest it has ever been, and sadly Theo wasn't voted into office. He did a great job representing Underwood and Minnesota. We are very proud of him!

Carlson Joins Review Staff

Hello! I am Emily Carlson and I would like to introduce myself to Review readers and the town of Battle Lake, again! My duties at The Review as of today are proofreader, writer and photographer plus waiting on customers. I will be working with other staff Janet Widness, Sue Duncan, interns Rayne Salvevold and Karina Walvatne along with owner Ed Pawlenty.

I graduated from BLHS in 2013 after moving to the area with my family in 2004. My parents, Tim and Tammy along with my two siblings, Elise and Eli moved us to the lakes area after living in The Twin Cities area for a number of years.

I recently graduated from Concordia College in May 2016. I received my Bachelor of Arts with a Communication Studies Major and Religion Minor. After spending my first year of post-graduation life in Moorhead, I am so excited to be back in the beautiful town of Battle Lake! On my days off from the newspaper and serving at Stella's, you can find me biking around Glendalough, enjoying all the delicious food served in the area or going on another fishing adventure with my family and boyfriend.

I cannot wait to see all of the friendly faces around town. Don't be alarmed if you see me taking photos, I promise I am authorized to!

The Ashby-Dalton Post and Battle Lake Review Offices will be Closed Memorial Day to honor our heroes! The Post and Review will be one day late due to the holiday!

Tri-City Meeting At Thumper

Submitted by Battle Lake City Clerk Val Martin

The Tri-City Living Partnership had their annual meeting at Thumper Resort May 4th. Guest speaker, Ben Winchester of the University of Minnesota, presented information on housing in our area.

The presentation was titled "Moving In, Moving Out, and Moving Over: Baby Boomers and the Rural Housing Supply". The discussion around workforce housing shortages is a narrow view of a complex continuum of residential housing dynamics. The baby boomer generation recently began expressing their residential preferences across America and the implications for rural communities can be profound. As rural communities have a greater proportion of those in this demographic group, we must explore the supply challenges, as well as the demand opportunities, this trend presents for small towns and rural places over the next 30 years.

Ben has worked in and for small towns across the Midwest since 1997 - with a focus on his home State of Minnesota. He joined the Extension Center for Community Vitality in 2008. As Research Fellow for the center, Ben manages evaluation studies that monitor the effectiveness and outcomes of leadership, civic engagement and community economics programs for all of Extension.

Ben also conducts research on topics relevant to community vitality. Currently, he is documenting a rural "brain gain" - the trend of 30-49 year-olds moving to rural areas - to identify the social and economic opportunities of this migration. He is also analyzing rural community leadership, especially as it affects community-wide requirements to support the public sector to "keep the town running."

Tri City Living Partnership was created 3 years ago to identify housing needs for our respective Cities of Battle Lake, Henning and Ottertail. The group has been working with a consultant, Traci Ryan of Ryan Development Consulting, to gather information and work together to address those needs.

The core group consists of the mayors and clerks of each city as well as Ms. Ryan. Nick Leonard and Erik Osberg, Otter Tail County Economic Development and Tourism, are also part of the core group that meets on a monthly basis to share ideas and develop collaborative efforts and to also discuss each of their special concerns. The group is considered an arm of the full councils of each city and each city shares equally in any financial needs. Annually all the councils will meet to discuss goals and the achievements of the group.

Tri-City Living partnership developed a website, www.tricityliving.org, which interested persons can access to compare quality of life living in our area as well as explore jobs, housing, recreational activities and starting a business. The group has set goals to increase market rate rental housing in each city, explore daycare options for young families and the promotion of "moving into our cities." Currently each city has realized increase housing opportunities by the construction of new rental housing in each community.

Tri-City Living works cooperatively with Otter Tail County officials and the County HRA. The goal of Tri-City Living and the Cities of Battle Lake, Henning and Ottertail is to continue to address common issues within our communities with the knowledge that "when one does better, we all do better."

Obituary

Lorraine Lykken

Lorraine Lykken, 92, of Battle Lake, died Wednesday, May 3, 2017 at Battle Lake Good Samaritan Center.

Memorial Service will be 2 p.m. Friday May 26, 2017, (Memorial Day Weekend) at the First Lutheran Church in Battle Lake. Interment will be in the First Lutheran Cemetery.

Visitation will be one hour prior to the service.

Lorraine Anderson Lykken, daughter of Harry and Clara Anderson, was born October 30th, 1924 at St. Luke's Hospital in Fargo, North Dakota. She was baptized December 7th, 1924. At that time, her family was living in Walcott, North Dakota and Lorraine started her grade school education there. The family moved to Fargo in 1935 when Lorraine was 11 years old. They attended and became active members of Olivet

Lutheran Church in Fargo. Lorraine was confirmed May 28th, 1939 by Pastor J. Melvin Moe. Lorraine graduated from Fargo High School May 19th, 1942.

After graduating from high school, Lorraine joined Fargo National Bank in 1942 where she worked in all departments over the next five years.

Sam and Lorraine met at a Luther League convention in Kindred, North Dakota. They were married May 17th, 1947 in Olivet Lutheran Church. Lorraine and Sam moved between Jamestown and Devils Lake as Sam's career advanced. Lorraine worked at James River National Bank in Jamestown, ND and August 24th, 1950 their first child, son, David was born. Three years later, April 25th, 1953, son, Daniel was born.

In 1955 they moved to Battle Lake, Minnesota when Sam purchased an Allis Chalmers dealership and later Sam purchased a second dealership in Fergus Falls, Minnesota in 1957. Sam had farming in his blood and purchased farm land to raise a small herd of cattle. In need of more farm land for his growing herd of cattle, Sam purchased farm land with lake shore frontage and started developing lake shore lots.

Lorraine was a "stay-at-home" mom until 1958 when she was offered a job at First National Bank of Battle Lake and worked there for the next 29 years. In August of 1967 she endured a traumatic bank robbery where she and other employees at gun point were locked in the bank vault. She was promoted to vice president and continued until her retirement in 1987.

Lorraine's greatest joy was spending time with family, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews and dear friends.

Lorraine was a member of The First Lutheran Church of Battle Lake, Mary Circle, WELFCA Progressive Club, American Legion Auxiliary, Battle Lake Food Shelf volunteer, Bridge Club and served on the Fergus Falls Concert Board for 25 years.

We want to especially thank the staff at Good Samaritan Senior Living Apartment and Good Samaritan Society nursing home for their loving support and heart felt care they provided Lorraine.

Lorraine is survived by sons, David and Daniel Lykken and their wives, Nancy and Cindy respectfully, grandchildren, Jonathan, James, Laura and Christina; great-granddaughters, Ellia, Quinn, Beatrice and Ada. Also, surviving Lorraine is her sister, Betty Pederson and brother, Lyle Anderson.

Preceding Lorraine in death were her husband of 64 years, Samuel C. Lykken; parents, Harry and Clara Anderson; sister, Dorothy; and brothers, Harris and Wally.

The family asks that any remembrances be made to Good Samaritan Society, First Lutheran Church of Battle Lake or a charity of your choice.

Arrangements are with the Glende-Nilson Funeral Home of Battle Lake.

Taking Blood Mobile Registrations

The Alliance Church of Battle Lake staff and Lions volunteers will be scheduling blood donors. Persons who are interested in donating blood should contact the Alliance Church office for an appointment. Local blood donors may sign up for the Wednesday, May 31 community blood drive at First Lutheran Church.

Donor appointments will be available from 12:30-6:30 p.m. Please call the Alliance Church office at 218-864-5539 during daytime hours for information and scheduling Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

The Red Cross will be running the Power Red draw if you wish to do that. It does take longer. For the PR donation, be sure to indicate that choice as there is a separate schedule. Make an appointment to make either type of donation by calling 218-864-5539 and ask for Brenda.

We are asking walk-in donors to please consider waiting until after 4 p.m. to walk-in as there are usually more openings later in the day.

The Federal Food and Drug Administration requires that you PRESENT A PHOTO ID, such as a driver's license. If you do not have a license, check the website below for what other type of identification that would suffice. You cannot be allowed to donate without it.

To donate you will be asked certain questions to see if you are eligible. Generally you need to be at least 17 (16 with parental approval under new law) and at least 110 pounds. If you have any question or doubt about being eligible to donate due to travel out of the country, medications, surgery and treatments.

Preparation —

Over several recent years some blood donors have shown up at the Blood Mobile and could not donate blood for a variety of reasons: (disallowed medications, recent surgeries, active infections, low iron levels, elevated blood pressure, travel outside of our country, and the lack of a photo ID).

The Red Cross suggests getting at least eight hours of sleep the night before donation, and eating a healthy breakfast and lunch before an afternoon donation of blood. Do not skip meals on the day of donation, and focus upon eating proteins (lean meat, cheese, and yogurt), and/or complex carbohydrates (bread, cereal, and fruit). For those experiencing iron deficiencies, the Red Cross recommends weeks and days of iron-rich foods, such as red meat, fish, poultry, beans, iron-fortified cereals, and raisins.

The Red Cross also has advice regarding body hydration prior to donation of blood. They recommend drinking a few extra glasses of water or fluids in the days before one donates, and starting each day with water or orange juice. If you drink water within 10-30 minutes before donation, you will be less likely to experience dizziness and light headedness after donation.

More Information —

Red Cross website at www.redcrossblood.org or call the Donor Support Center at 1-866-236-3276 select option #3. This will help to prevent being turned down when you get to the donation location.

Sin Boldly?

There is a famous letter from Martin Luther to his fellow reformer Philip Melanchthon where Luther tells him to sin boldly. This passage has often been taken out of context to claim that Luther was a reprobate, but if we look carefully at the context in which Luther was advising Melanchthon to "sin boldly" we see that nothing could be further from the truth. Melanchthon was having doubts about the Catholic church withholding the wine from the laity in the distribution of the Eucharist. Until 1416, all members of the church could receive the Eucharist in both species, i.e. the bread and the wine, but after 1416 the church withheld the chalice from the laity. Melanchthon was worried that he might be sinning and Martin Luther essentially told him that in matters like this, where there is considerable doubt about whether you are sinning or not, to go ahead and sin boldly. He also said to "pray boldly for you are the boldest of sinners." Sometimes we fear that we are sinning, and may even doubt God's ability to forgive us, but none of us really know God's mind on these fine details of faith, and in that context, Luther's advice is apt. Sin boldly and trust that God's grace is sufficient. —Christopher Simon

The law was brought in so that the trespass might increase. But where sin increased, grace increased all the more, so that, just as sin reigned in death, so also grace might reign through righteousness to bring eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

I was in the mood to save me a buck or two. Looking at the items on the list needing to be purchased, I promised myself the best of the best in any given category was not necessary. It was merely a weekend visit to the cabin, and so getting by would be good enough.

Paper towels, dish soap, milk, and bowl cleaner were spelled out in no particular order. Some of the items were a must, but the tablets to plop into the toilet bowl tank were not. Yet, the blue in the bowl that keeps on working when we are not at the cabin comforts me. There is a feeling of cleanliness that sort of sparkles within knowing the bowl will be germ free upon our return. It psychologically helps me feel better about my role as housekeeper of the place.

When I hit the aisle in which this item is sold, the name-brand was about two bucks more than the off-brand. The least costly had a powerful label, "2000 Flushes...Blue plus Bleach!" Proud of my prudent plan to spend less, I placed it into the cart.

Finishing up with the rest of my purchases, I was soon out the door making my way back to the cabin. Once there, I put each item away and the last one was my 2000 Flush find. Lifting the heavy lid on the ceramic tank, I managed to carefully cut open the package which promised to kill 99.9% of all bacteria! Feeling quite satisfied with not only my purchase but with my standard of cleanliness, I went the round white solid tablet.

The large Alka-Seltzer look alike spiraled down to the bottom of the tank, and I waited in wonderment hoping to witness the bursting forth of color. Soon, the transparent water would change to a vibrant aqua blue. Honestly, it's worth the investment just based on the feeling of happy it brings within.

As it kerplunked to the bottom and sat there, so did I...sat there that is. I waited a bit longer and with little to no change in the color of the water before me, I was perplexed. Quickly, I ran into the kitchen to find a long utensil in order to prod it along in the process. Plunging it into the toilet tank of water, the solid chunk of round stuff still did absolutely nothing. No color, no fizz, no nothing!

Grabbing the package in order to reread the label, I found myself wondering how someone could actually advertise this as "BLUE plus BLEACH!" While the 2000 Flushes might be accurate, the BLUE was nowhere to be had...and I had been had. Apparently, the printing of the words in blue ink was "honest enough" for them to sell a product dishonestly.

Philippians 4:8 reminds me on what it is I need to focus. "Finally, brothers and sisters, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable-if anything is excellent or praiseworthy-think about such things."

And so, I think I'm thankful to have saved some bucks, thankful for 2000 flushes (although the tally marks have yet to be calculated) and thankful I own an extra place to keep clean. Amen.

New Art Featured at OTCHS Museum

The Otter Tail County Historical Society will be featuring the work of Chris Olson and Nikki Turner from May 15 until June 12.

A resident of Norcross, Chris Olson's current work consists of rare and/or occasional acts of nature that include weather, the changing of the seasons and other phenomena. Other areas of interest include Minnesota's diverse landscape. He describes his work as "created and driven through the passion and deep appreciation of nature and my natural surroundings including wildlife, landscapes, culture and people."

Nikki Turner of Barrett is displaying work she says represents what the artist thinks of when she thinks of Minnesota. She paints from photographs, about half of which she took herself.

Kathryn Dean Elmer graduated from McGill University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Earth System Science in February 2017. She will walk in the convocation ceremony June 5 at McGill University in Montreal.

She is the granddaughter of Elaine Elmer of Battle Lake.

Kathryn is employed as a research assistant in the aviation division of Canada's National Research Council in Ottawa.

Among the Black Hills State University candidates for graduation was Brady Cameron of Battle Lake. He earned a MS in Strategic Leadership.

Otter Tail-Grant County Soybean-Corn Growers Award Local Students in Agriculture w/Scholarships

In an effort to reward students pursuing a college education in agriculture, the Otter Tail - Grant Soybean - Corn Growers have awarded four students $500.00 each in Otter Tail and Grant counties. The following individuals are the chosen scholarship winners:

Andrew Backman - Herman: Backman, son of Tim and Marilyn Backman, will be graduating on May 26 from Herman-Norcross Community schools and will be attending the University of Minnesota. His intentions are to graduate in 2021 and then apply and attend the University of Minnesota's School of Veterinary Medicine. His goal is to become a Small Animal Soft Tissue Veterinary Surgeon.

Benjamin Cole - Battle Lake: Cole, son of Dan Cole and Lisa Cole, is a 2017 graduate of Battle Lake Public School and has been accepted to Alexandria Technical College for the fall of 2017. He will be majoring in Mechatronics. Mechatronics combines mechanical, electrical and information technology into a single major. When he is done with school he plans to stay in a rural setting.

Alyssa K. Evavold - Battle Lake: Evavold, daughter of Les and Kathy Evavold, is a 2017 graduate of Battle Lake High School and will be attending Minnesota State Community and Technical College in Fergus Falls where she has been admitted to their Equine Science program. Upon completing her two years in Fergus Falls, she will transfer to the University of Minnesota Crookston to finish her bachelor's degree in pre-veterinary medicine. Looking to the future she can see herself working with animals, preferably horses. However, she says growing up on a farm introduced her to dogs, cats, beef and dairy cattle, all of which she enjoyed.

Lydia Hansen - Vining: Hanson, daughter of Donald and Sandra Hansen, is a 2017 graduate of Henning Public School. She plans to attend the University of Minnesota, Crookston in the fall to study Agricultural Business and Animal Science. She says her career options are numerous and she has not decided what exact career path she plans to pursue.

The Otter Tail - Grant County Soybean - Corn Growers are proud of these individuals and excited for their future paths in agriculture. Agriculture is the nation's largest employer with more than 23 million jobs.

The Otter Tail - Grant County Soybean - Corn Growers are affiliated with the Minnesota Soybean Research & Promotion Council, which oversees the investment of soybean checkoff dollars on behalf of approximately 25,000 farmers in Minnesota. The Council is governed by the rules of a federally mandated checkoff program that requires all soybean producers pay a fee on the soybeans they sell. This money is used to promote, educate and develop market opportunities for soybeans.

Good Samaritan Outlook

Things to remember...

"Memorial Day" is a day to remember—a day to reflect on the commitment of so many brave men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice so that we are blessed to enjoy the freedoms we celebrate in so many ways.

These brave men and women is what this day is all about. It is a somber, not celebratory moment. Freedom meant so much that brave men and women did not even hold their lives dear, but gave them up for us.

We remember with deep gratitude their gift of life which is given to each of us in the form of the freedoms we enjoy every day in America.

300,000 soldiers, and other persons, are buried at Arlington National Cemetery. Most are faces and names most of us would not recognize. But they are all important...They all have a common ancestry, a mother, father, grand-parents.

They served under a president elected in a free democracy. They died—all for a common cause—to keep this, "One Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all," free!

Memorial Day is a U. S. federal holiday observed on the last Monday of May, formerly known as "Decoration Day."

It commemorates U.S. men and women who died while in military service. First enacted to honor Union soldiers of the American Civil War (it is celebrated near the day of reunification after the Civil War), it was expanded after World War I to include American casualties of any war or military action.

Many people will observe this holiday by visiting cemeteries and memorials. A National moment of remembrance takes place at 3 p.m., local time.

The National Memorial Day Concert takes place on the west lawn of the United States Capitol. The concert is broadcast on PBS and NPR.

Music will be performed, and respect paid to the men and women who sacrificed their lives for their country.

In addition to remembrance, Memorial Day is also a day when families come together for picnics, barbecues, family gatherings and sporting events.

One of the longest-standing traditions is the running of the Indianapolis 500, which has been held in conjunction with Memorial Day since 1911.

Battle Lake will hold their own National observance on Memorial Day—quite often in the high school gymnasium.

The band will play patriotic songs. The color guard of the American Legion Post will present the colors of America to what we hope will be a standing room only crowd.

We will remember the lives of fallen soldiers, many of whom we know. They are our "modern-day heroes"—men and women who loved freedom more than life itself.

Prayers and a speech will be given that will lift up the legacy of life given us by the ultimate sacrifice made by brave men and women.

Let's We Forget...All those brave men and women who gave their lives in service to our nation: We honor them today, and we thank them for their sacrifice!

To Our POW/MIA's...You Are Never Forgotten. On Memorial Day, we remember these heroes and ALL OTHERS who gave their lives for the cause of freedom. (This list is by no means complete)

Ole Olson walked into a watch company and asked for a job that paid $100 a week. But after talking to the manager about it, he said that he wanted $200 a week.

The manager asked, "Have you ever done precision work before?" "No," said Ole. "Well, then," said the manager, "Why do you want twice as much money?"

"Because it's harder ven ya don't know how ta do it," replied Ole.

'Back To The Future Welcomes You'

Sibling duo, Linda Keller and Faron Flink, along with spouses Jeff and Sharon (respectively) would like to welcome everyone to their recently opened shop, "Back To The Future." Located just off of Highway 210 and on the edge of Battle Lake, the shop features antiques, furniture, jewelry, and so much more! Hours are: Sunday-Monday, Closed; Tuesday-Wednesday, 10-5 and Thursday-Saturday, 10-7.

Owning an antique shop didn't happen randomly for Linda, Faron, and their families. Faron has been collecting items since he was 14 years old and Linda always enjoyed refurbishing older items. Linda and Faron have both lived and worked around the Otter Tail County area for their whole lives. After renting a small space to sell their items in Fergus Falls, they knew they wanted to open up their own full shop. Battle Lake proved to be the town for the job.

When asked what their favorite part of the job is, Faron responded saying, "Dealing with people, used stuff, and looking to make everyone happy. Seeing people with a smile is the best." After working as a CNA for many years, Linda is familiar with helping people. She commented that being able to help people is one of her favorite aspects of this job.

The team at "Back To The Future" would like to invite vendors to sign-up for the Flea Market this summer. Flea Markets in Battle Lake are held the first weekend of each month. Stop by their shop or call in to get sign-up!

Be sure to stop by "Back To The Future" for all your antique and unique shopping needs! You won't be disappointed!

Battle Lake Pairs & Squares Mother's Day Dance

It was Mother's Day. We received beautiful cards from our children. Some even received flowers. Why not? It was a sunny 80° day and Mom's are special. So our dance took on that special feeling. With friends from around our region, Roger McNeil called the dance for all the Pretty Women in the hall. Three squares were there to enjoy his music and calling. Amanda was our first Round dance led by Bernadette McNeil. Roger's Sugar Pie Honey Bunch. Somehow I'm happy, you're happy from the Good ole days are right now come on. That sounds like if Ma Ma ain't happy no one is. So with our circle of friends. Chicka Chicka line dance was on the agenda next. We pulsed on through the 4 heads and on with the Garden Party. We had some trouble. We looked like Bandy the Rodeo Clown at times, with all our missteps. So Roger Binga Bangda Boomed us back home, and we were done. The evening ended with I'll be your Baby Tonight, and Good Luck Charm. Yes, we had a great dance.

Our lunch had Mom's favorite cookies and some sandwiches for all to enjoy.

Our next dance is May 28th at 7 p.m. Theme: Sports Night.

Books and Bikes!
May is National Bike Month. At the Fergus Falls Public Library, we've got bikes on the brain this month not only because it's Bike Month but also because we're really excited about debuting our beta book bike this summer!

The librarian powered book bike will transport books to community locations where the books can be checked out. It's beta because this summer will be a trial run (ride?) to see how we can best use a bike to help bring the library book collection out into the community. If the pilot project is successful, we'll move forward on plans to acquire a more permanent book bike in the future.

To celebrate Bike Month and the future debut of the beta book bike, we've put together a list of bike-related books, all available for check-out at the library, for your reading pleasure. One cautionary note, reading while riding is not encouraged.

The City was fortunate to receive the gift of a bike maintenance station, courtesy of the Lake Alice 100 bike race. The repair station is located near the front entrance of the library. If you're interested in learning more about choosing a bike and/or maintaining and repairing a bike, we have a few books that might interest you:

"The Bike Book: Complete step-by-step guide to choosing, maintaining, and repairing your bicycle" by Fred Milson—A great basic book covering bicycle parts and systems (includes an overview of kids' and adults' bikes), tools, and bike care.

"Zinn And The Art of Road Bike Maintenance" by Lennard Zinn.—Looking for a more comprehensive manual? This is it! Thorough text instructions and also includes detailed illustrations. We've also compiled some fun bike-related titles you can share with the children in your life who might be trying out their first two-wheeler:

Bike Books for Children, compiled by Arielle Krohn, Youth Services Librarian:

"A Bike Like Sergio's" by Maribeth Boelts (2016)—Ruben really wants a new bike like his friend Sergio has but his family cannot afford one. When Ruben sees a woman accidentally drop a $100 bill on the ground he has to make a tough decision to figure out the right thing to do. A great picture book conversation starter! Grades K -2

"Joseph's Big Ride" by Terry Farish and Ken Daley (2016)—Joseph and his mother immigrate from Kenya to America where everything is strange to Joseph. A bicycle ends up being the key to feeling comfortable with his new life. A wonderfully-illustrated and important book which covers topics like friendship, moving, and refugees. Grades K -2

"Kids' Cycling Handbook: Tips, Facts and Know-How about Road, Track, BMX and Mountain Biking" edited by Dynamo Limited (2016)—A non-fiction guide to bike basics for kids. Full-color illustrations and photos as well as fun bike facts make this a handy handbook to check-out. Grades 2 - 6

Anton Jones Named New Artistic Director for CLIMB Theatre

For the first time since its founding, 42 years ago, Twin Cities based CLIMB Theatre is under new leadership.

The CLIMB Theatre Board of Directors has announced the appointment of Anton Jones as their new Artistic Director and CEO. He assumes responsibilities now and will succeed the theatre's founder, Peg Wetli, who has retired after serving one of the longest tenures as Artistic Director in the state.

Before taking a fulltime position at CLIMB last September as the Director and Manager of the touring performance company, Anton had directed for CLIMB multiple times and had provided professional development workshops for employees over the past 10 years.

"It's very rare to find an organization who's mission is so closely tied to your personal mission as an artist and CLIMB represents that for me" Jones states, "I am extremely excited to build upon the strong foundation that has been developed over the past 42 years while strengthening CLIMB's partnership with other arts organizations, schools and organizations that serve youth both locally and nationally."

Anton Jones, whose personal mission has been "to change the face of the American Theatre Audience", will be one of the youngest Artistic Directors of an organization of this size in the state, however his connection to the Twin Cities arts scene predates his birth. His grandmother, Dr. Geneva Southall, was an instrumental force in the local music and arts education scene and served on the music and African Studies faculty of the University of Minnesota from the early seventies until her retirement in the early 90s. His mother was a founding member of Penumbra Theatre Company and an alumnus of the University of MN Theatre program. As a child, he grew up watching his mother work with August Wilson and Lloyd Richards (director

SUDOKU... Fun By The Numbers!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Breaking the Dragon's Jaw—by Walter J. Boyne

Some World War II targets—the refineries of Ploesti in Romania, the V-2 infrastructure at Peenemunde in Germany, the Japanese naval base at Truk—were so obviously important they immediately commanded the attention of both attackers and defenders.

Such was the case with the Thanh Hoa Bridge in North Vietnam, during the Vietnam War.

Supplies flowed in a torrent through this rugged span, from North Vietnamese ports and factories to the Ho Chi Minh Trail and on to South Vietnam. The Americans tried to use the irresistible force of their weaponry to destroy this vital conduit and bottleneck.

The North Vietnamese strove to make the bridge an immovable object with an incredibly powerful integrated defense system. The defenders succeeded in keeping the bridge in service for seven long, casualty filled years.

Officially called the Thanh Hoa Railroad and Highway Bridge, it was nicknamed the Ham Rong (Dragon's Jaw) because of its layout.

Two concrete abutments were each sited on slight elevations in the generally flat plain. The bridge was supported in the center with a massive concrete pier. To the North Vietnamese, the layout of the bridge looked like a gaping dragon's mouth.

Located just three miles northeast of Thanh Hoa, the capital of Annam province, the bridge had a special place in the minds of the North Vietnamese. In 1945, during their war against the French, the rebel Viet Minh forces destroyed the original structure by exploding two ammunition filled railroad trains on it.

Reconstruction began in 1957, and Ho Chi Minh attended the opening ceremony in 1964. A conventional steel through truss structure, the new bridge was 540 feet long, 56 feet wide, and ran due west about 50 feet above the surface of the river Song Ma.

A single one-meter gauge railroad track passed down the center of the bridge, while roadways permitting foot and truck traffic were cantilevered on either side of the structure. The North Vietnamese knew it was vitally important and ultimately placed five air defense regiments nearby to defend it. A few elderly MiG fighters were stationed in proximity as well, and they proved surprisingly capable.

In 1965, the United States began a two-day assault on the bridge. US planners underestimated the Dragon's Jaw's strength and defenses and overestimated the capability of their own ordnance.

Lt. Col. Robinson Risner, an eight victory ace in the Korean War, was commander of the "Fighting Cocks," the 67th Tactical Fighter Squadron, flying out of Korat RTAB, Thailand. On April 3, his strike package consisted of 46 Republic F-105 Thunderchiefs, well supported by 21 North American F-100s, two McDonnell RF-101s, and 10 tankers. The entire North Vietnamese fighter strength at this time was 56 aircraft.

The F-105, designed as a supersonic long-range tactical nuclear bomber, on this mission carried two types of ordnance. Sixteen carried two AGM-12 Bullpup missiles each, while 30 carried 750-pound bombs.

Mounted externally, the bombs degraded the Thud's speed and agility. The rocket-powered Bullpup, an early precision guided missile, had a 250-pound warhead. The pilot tracked a flare in the back of the missile, using radio signals to steer it. The Bullpups were fired one at a time, requiring two passes at the target.

The precisely coordinated attack began at 2 p.m. on April 3, with Risner in the first airplane. The 32 Bullpups, released at about 12,000 feet, proved difficult to guide, and those that did hit the target did not do significant damage. The effect of the 120 conventional bombs that struck the bridge was also negligible.

An F-100 and an RF-101 were lost, and Risner's airplane was severely damaged, forcing him to land at Da Nang. A second assault was ordered for the following day.

This time 48 F-105s, accompanied by 21 F-100s, dropped their 750-pound bombs. Three hundred bombs struck the bridge, damaging it severely, but not knocking it down.

A surprise came from the success of the North Vietnamese MiG-17s, which scored their first kills of the war. In a well-planned counter-attack, they shot down two F-105s. Air Force Chief of Staff, Gen. Joseph P. McConnell was furious that two of the elderly MiG-17s could shoot down the F-105s, and launched an inquiry.

The debacle led to a change in fighter tactics, training, and procurement, but another 334 "Thuds" would be lost in combat before the war's end.

Risner himself was shot down twice in F-105s over North Vietnam. The first time, in April 1965, he was rescued. The second time, in September 1965, he was shot down in an area near the Thanh Hoa Bridge, where he was captured and imprisoned by the North Vietnamese until 1973.

The American attacks against a variety of North Vietnamese bridges continued, and 25 of them were destroyed by the end of May 1965.

But the Thanh Hoa Bridge remained standing despite return attacks. The 750-pound bombs were simply inadequate to down the structure, and the North Vietnamese became expert in making emergency repairs.

The bridge was removed from the USAF target list when the "Route Package" system was initiated in November 1965. In the new system, the US Navy took over the attacks, with virtually the same lack of results, for the next three years.

The reason for the ineffectiveness was simple: The bridge was overbuilt and the bombs were understrength. Only 11 miles from the South China Sea, the bridge was often protected by bad weather, giving the enemy time to rebuild and strengthen it, adding eight concrete piers. At the same time, massive quantities of air defense supplies flowed in and vigilantly protected the area.

The exact strength of the five air defense regiments varied over time and from place to place, but each one usually had about 1,000 personnel operating about 36 medium or heavy anti-aircraft artillery guns. When surface-to-air missile batteries were provided, for a considerable period they added extra AAA batteries. Five air defense regiments at the time could have included anything from 150 to 200 AAA batteries of varying caliber, able to put up a dense defense.

Indestructible? The combination of rugged structure and a powerful integrated air defense made it obvious a new and far more powerful weapon was needed. "The apparent invincibility of the bridge; its cost in men, aircraft, and ordinance; its potential strategic importance; its symbolic value to the North Vietnamese—all served as an incentive for US aviators to find different techniques to destroy it," according to USAF's monograph, "The Tale of Two Bridges and the Battle for the Skies Over North Vietnam."

The personnel of the Air Force Armament Laboratory at Eglin AFB, Fla., worked hard to develop a solution.

A new "mass-focus" weapon weighing about 5,000 pounds was produced. Shaped like a huge pancake, eight feet in diameter and about 30 inches thick, it was designed to focus the force of its explosion along its axis in both directions. Much too large to be dropped by a fighter, and with unpredictable ballistic qualities, it was intended to be dropped by parachute into the Song Ma. Planning called for it to float down the river to the Dragon's Jaw. There the metal structure of the bridge would set off magnetic detonators and explode the bomb.

A task force was set up at Eglin's Tactical Air Warfare Center. Established in 1963, the TAWC was designed to develop instruments and tactics of armament, night operations, combat support, and command and control.

The task force opted to use the versatile Lockheed C-130 Hercules transport and two crews from the 61st Troop Carrier Squadron at Sewart AFB, Tenn.

There were two crews: one led by Maj. Richard T. Remers and the second by Maj. Thomas F. Case. An array of specialists and technicians were deployed to examine how to drop the weapon, what parachutes to use, and how to ensure the weapon would navigate the river, subject as it was to its depth and current.

After intense training, the C-130s and their crews arrived at Da Nang Air Base in South Vietnam on May 15, 1966.

Ten of the large mass-focus weapons were available, enough for two missions in what would become known as Operation Carolina Moon.

The operation depended on careful planning, skillful flying, and brave crews. Remers' crew was slated to make the first drop, entering North Vietnam at night and maintaining an altitude of no more than 500 feet.

A flight of two McDonnell F-4 Phantoms was scheduled for a diversionary attack on a highway 10 miles north of the bridge, just before the C-130 would drop its weapons. A Douglas EB-66 Destroyer provided electronic countermeasures protection.

Both aircraft commanders were confident the Hercules was strong enough to make the mission, but each had different ideas on crew safety. Intelligence revealed the North Vietnamese had greatly increased their anti-aircraft artillery capability at the bridge with the addition of five new AAA sites.

Weighing this, Remers felt that if the C-130 were too badly damaged, he should climb to altitude and bail the crew out. He decided that his crew would wear parachutes rather than flak jackets.

Case felt differently, believing that at low altitudes, the crew would be better off wearing flak jackets. In the end, these decisions mattered little.

Just after midnight on May 30, Remers took off from Da Nang, flying just 100 feet over the water of the South China Sea until hitting its entry point on the coast of North Vietnam. In less than an hour he was "feet dry," heading up the Song Ma, under the guidance of two navigators, Capt. Norman G. Clanton and 1st Lt. William R. Edmondson.

Two release points had been pre-selected, one two miles from the bridge, and one a single mile away. Remers climbed to 400 feet, flying at 150 mph. The approach was without incident and he elected to use the second drop point. Just before the drop, the enemy opened up with heavy automatic weapons and anti-aircraft guns. Five of the mass-focus weapons were dropped, and Remers picked up speed as he dove back.

toward a 100-foot altitude and reversed his route to exit for an uneventful flight back to Da Nang. Reconnaissance flights the following morning showed that the bridge still stood, and there was no evidence of the bombs.

The second mission was laid on for 1 a.m. on May 31. Case asked that Edmondson join his crew for the mission, feeling that his experience from the first mission might be invaluable. The same precautionary measures-diversion attacks and electronic countermeasures support-were supplied.

Finally, Success Case's C-130 departed Da Nang at 1 a.m. May 31 as planned, but nothing more was ever heard from it. One of the diversionary F-4 crews saw AAA fire and a big explosion near the bridge at about the scheduled drop time. The other F-4 was shot down, presumably killing 1st Lt. Ned R. Herrold and Lt. Col. Dayton W. Ragland, who had spent two years as a prisoner of war in Korea. It was Ragland's 98th mission in Vietnam, nearly time for him to return home.

The next morning's reconnaissance mission revealed no damage to the bridge or any evidence of survivors. An extensive search was conducted, but nothing that could be positively identified as belonging to either Case's C-130 or Ragland's F-4 was found. Much later, the interrogation of a captured North Vietnamese sailor revealed that while four of the five mines from Remers' mission had exploded, they had not damaged the bridge.

With this tragic finale, Operation Carolina Moon concluded and its remaining personnel returned to the United States. Their experiment had not been successful, and many years passed before the remains of several of the missing Carolina Moon crew members were recovered.

In 1986, the remains of Case, 1st Lt. Armon D. Shingledecker, 1st Lt. Harold J. Zook, and A1C Elroy E. Harworth were returned to the United States for burial with honors. In 1998, the remains of A1C Phillip J. Stickney were returned.

The other Carolina Moon C-130 crew members, Edmondson, Capt. Emmett R. McDonald, and SSgt. Bobby J. Alberton are still listed as missing in action, with a presumptive finding of death.

The two F-4 crew members shot down while flying the diversionary strike, Herrold and Ragland, are also listed as MIA, presumed dead.

Naval aircraft resumed the attacks and continued to go after the bridge until 1968, when the United States halted bombing strikes against North Vietnam. A wide range of aircraft launched different types of weapons-including the AGM-62 Walleye precision guided missile-with no significant effect.

But when Operation Linebacker commenced in 1972, both the Navy and Air Force were better equipped. Great progress had been made in the field of precision guided munitions, and these revolutionary weapons would ultimately bring down the Dragon's Jaw.

Air Force F-4 Phantoms from the 8th TFW used Paveway laser guided and TV guided bombs to attack the bridge on April 27, 1972. A section of the western end of the bridge was displaced and knocked into the Song Ma.

A follow-up attack on May 13 saw 14 Phantoms dropping 2,000-pound and 3,000-pound LGBs. They knocked the Dragon's Jaw off an abutment and took the bridge out of action, although follow-on strikes were needed, as the North Vietnamese immediately went to work on repairing the bridge.

Final success occurred on Oct. 6, when four Vought A-7s from the carrier America attacked. Two were carrying the improved version of the Walleye, while two brought standard Mk 84 general purpose bombs. They struck the center piling and broke the structure in half.

At long last, after seven years, 871 sorties, tremendous expenditure in lives, 11 lost aircraft, and a bewildering array of expended munitions, the Dragon's Jaw was finally broken.

OTC Wins Over Wadena, Lose Two

by Coach Hendrickson

Otter Tail Central fell behind early and couldn't come back in a 9-3 loss to Breckenridge on Monday.

Breckenridge scored on an error and a double by Carson Yagie in the first inning.

Breckenridge scored three runs in the seventh inning. The big inning for Breckenridge came thanks to a double by EJ Engen and a single by Andrew Etzler.

Westley Johnson earned the win for Breckenridge. He went three innings, allowing one run, four hits, striking out two, and walking zero. Mitch Porter threw three innings, as three relievers helped Breckenridge finish off the victory.

Cole Brandner took the loss for Otter Tail Central. He threw six and two-thirds innings, allowing nine runs, only 3 earned, 11 hits, striking out three and walking one.

"We took a step backwards today defensively" Coach Ryan Hendrickson mentioned of his team giving up 6 unearned runs on 6 errors. "We got a lot better defensively this year, but today was maybe a step back as we have put a lot of focus on our offense lately. When we put an all around game together we will be a tough team to beat. We have been playing better lately. I'm really looking for us to finish the year out strong."

Otter Tail Central collected six hits. Kirby Lohse and Brodey Rocholl each collected multiple hits for Otter Tail Central. Rocholl and Lohse had two hits to lead Otter Tail Central.

"We are putting the ball into play now. Brodey is cutting it pretty well," Hendrickson said of Rocholl as he has had turned a corner offensively hitting a home-run and 2 hits Friday and now today having 2 more hits.

Breckenridge had 12 hits in the game. Andrew Kram, Tommy Hiedeman, Porter and Etzler each collected multiple hits for Breckenridge.

vs Wadena

Otter Tail Central beat Wadena-Deer Creek 6-1 on Thursday.

Wadena-Deer Creek took an early lead in the first inning on a lead off single by Warren. Warren later scored after an OTC error and a SAC Fly by Dykhoff.

Otter Tail Central took the lead for good with two runs in the fourth inning. The fourth inning was started with a Brodey Rocholl single and followed with another single this time by Cole Brandner. Rocholl was then scored on deep shot to right center field by Kirby Lohse. OTC was able to take the lead when Nic Haugen pinch ran for Lohse and scored on a throwing error of WDC.

Coach Hendrickson said this of Nic Haugen. "Nic really showed that he is a really good teammate. He sacrificed his playing time, because of re-entry rule, to give us more speed on the bases. Because of his unselfishness we were able to take advantage of our opponents mistake. Nic is a great teammate and person, he is constantly looking for ways to improve himself; today he made his team better."

Otter Tail Central scored four runs in the seventh inning. Daxton Olson led the inning off with a 5 pitch walk and was bunted over by Drake Larsen.

"We have worked hard on our bunting as of late because we haven't been very good at it this year. After missing a couple bunting opportunities again today, I had to go back to what I saw this week out of Drake. He worked really hard at his bunting this week and he laid down a beauty today," said Coach Ryan Hendrickson. Isaac Roers then reached the base path by way of a defensive error and moved to second base on a wild pitch. Brodey Rocholl then came up with a huge one-out single to right field scoring both Olson and Roers. "I can't say enough about the leadership qualities of Brodey. Anyone who has taught or coached Brodey would say he is a great leader and teammate. And now as of late he is also swinging a very hot bat," Hendrickson mentioned, "as Rocholl has punched in 2 more hits today making that 6 hits in the last 3 games."

Otter Tail Central also had some defensive highlights as Bennet Cameron and Max Naddy both had an Outfield Assist apiece. Bennet's assist was to Isaac Roers at the plate nailing a would be run by WDC and Max's Assist was a 8-4-6 putout as he caught a runner trying to stretch a single into a double. Cole Brander was perfect from 3rd base with all 6 of his total chances.

Drake Larsen earned the win for Otter Tail Central. He threw seven innings, giving up one run, seven hits, and striking out two. "I saw a very confident and comfortable Drake Larsen today," Coach Hendrickson said of his pitcher. "He had great command and mental toughness today. WDC is a good hitting team with great energy in their dugout, but today we had a pitcher on a mission. I could not be any prouder of Drake today with his physical and more so his mental game."

Ross took the loss for Wadena-Deer Creek. He went four innings, surrendering two runs, five hits, striking out one, and walking zero.

Otter Tail Central had ten hits in the game. Cole Brandner, Isaac Roers, Lohse, and Brodey Rocholl each collected multiple hits for Otter Tail Central.

Wadena-Deer Creek collected seven hits. Justin Dykhoff and Jake Dykhoff each collected multiple hits for Wadena-Deer Creek.

vs West Central Area

Otter Tail Central fell to West Central Area 7-6 on Friday on the final play of the game. The game was tied at six with West Central Area batting in the bottom of the seventh when Tanner Bennett singled off of Brodey Rocholl, driving in Gullickson for the winning run.

Despite the loss, Otter Tail Central did collect eight hits in the high-scoring affair. Unfortunately, West Central Area had 11 hits on the way to victory.

West Central Area captured the lead in the first inning. Sam Gullickson doubled on a 1-1 count in the first inning, scoring one run.

After Otter Tail Central scored three runs in the top of the second, West Central Area answered with three of their own. Otter Tail Central scored when Andrew Weniger singled off of Mason Nibbe, driving in Bennet Cameron and Isaac Roers doubled off of Nibbe, driving in both Cameron and Andrew Weniger. Those 2 RBI's would just get Roers started on his 4 RBI night.

West Central Area then answered when there was an error, scoring one run and Trysten Gapp doubled off of Daxton Olson, driving in two runs.

OTC was able to push a couple more runs across the plate in the top side of the 5th and 6th innings. In the 5th inning, Brodey Rocholl led off with a hard hit ball through the shortstop, Brodey then stole 2nd base and was moved to 3rd on a Cole Brandner ground ball to the 2nd baseman. Brodey was scored when Kirby Lohse hit a rocket to the centerfield fence for a double. Coach Ryan Hendrickson commented on the inning. "That was some good small ball and clutch hitting from Lohse. I really thought we were going to get this one."

OTC then took yet another lead in the 6th inning when Drake Larsen opened things up with a 1 out walk. Larsen was then moved to third base by means of another big hit out of Weniger. "Andy has been on fire, his improvements have been outstanding!"

Isaac Roers then capped his night off by hitting in both Larsen and Weniger for RBI's number 3 and 4 on the night when he hit a double past the centerfielder. "I'm so proud of Isaac. He had 3 hits tonight and all of those were with 2 strikes. Two strike hitting and putting the ball in play has been our major focus offensively, and Isaac really pulled through with that tonight."

In the bottom of the sixth inning, West Central Area tied things up at six. Nathan Kaye grounded out, scoring Fernholz. Fernholz had a huge night for WCA as he had 2 singles and a big triple in the 6th inning. Fernholz led WCA with 3 hits, 1 stolen base, 3 runs scored, yet had 0 RBI.

Teigen Moritz earned the win for West Central Area. He went two and a third innings, surrendering three runs, two hits, and striking out three. Brodey Rocholl took the loss for Otter Tail Central. He tossed one and one-third innings, giving up two runs, four hits, and walking zero.

Olson started the game for Otter Tail Central. He pitched five innings, allowing five runs, seven hits, striking out one, and walking one. "Daxton really gave us a good chance of winning this game. Despite only having 2 errors, we didn't play very well on the defensive side of the ball with executing some little things." Nibbe started the game for West Central Area. He went three innings, allowing three runs, four hits, and walking one.

Roers, Weniger, and Bennet Cameron each collected multiple hits for Otter Tail Central. Cameron, Weniger, and Roers each collected two hits to lead Otter Tail Central. "Offensively we are coming around. With the way the weather has been on practice days, we have been able to really focus offensively with our indoor facilities, but now we have to pick up our defense again, which can be a real grind in the spring."

Caden Fernholz, Gullickson, and Tanner Bennett each collected multiple hits for West Central Area. Gapp went 1-for-3 at the plate as he led the team with two runs batted in.

Beautify Battle Lake May 15 - Citywide Cleanup---Partners are Key!

Submitted by
Karalyn Harrington

Monday morning, May 15, Battle Lake High School students (117) and adults (came together to tackle 40+ projects to beautify Battle Lake. Twelve teams of students and "crew bosses" handled projects including: ditch cleaning along Highways 210, 78, 83, and 89 going into Battle Lake; "Request for Help" assistance to individual homeowners and businesses; sweeping sand off the sidewalks of the business district; and cleaning and dressing up the landscape at the school.

This year individuals and businesses turned in 17 "Request for Help" forms. About half the requests were yard waste pickups. The other requests involved yard work. Most requests involved assistance for elderly or ailing community members.

Many area residents took advantage of the free metals/appliance and electronics collections located on KC Lawn property west of Trosdahl's on Highway 210.

A tasty lunch was prepared and served to the entire crew by the Battle Lake First Lutheran Church.

There was a good deal of enthusiasm - some students didn't want to stop working for lunch while others wanted to return to work following lunch.

Two inspiring senior citizens set quite the example of civic responsibility. Ray Pleasant, 89, a former Minnesota House Representative and Bloomington City Council member, and Bob Wasson, 82, a former Battle Lake City Council member, worked with gusto on cleanup projects with the students.

The Beautify Battle Lake Committee (part of Network Battle Lake) extends a special "Thank You" to everyone involved directly or indirectly in the May 2017 citywide cleanup. During the last five years over a dozen cleanup events have happened - several days at the Battle Lake School, the Spruce-ups for Pumpkin Fest, and the spring/fall cleanups. None of these endeavors would have been accomplished without the students and adults experiencing the satisfaction of beautifying our community.

Lunch served by First Lutheran Church to hungry students.

Work is done - heading back to school.

Tanner Kortlever, a 2016 Battle Lake graduate, evidently enjoyed cleanup days during high school so much he returned Monday to join in the fun. This year he brought his own equipment and did a super job. Tanner is studying Landscape Technology at Central Lakes College in Brainerd and has his own business - Tanner's Lawn Service.

Battle Lake Band Trip to Chicago

Thirty-five members of the Battle Lake School Band recently enjoyed a long weekend in Chicago! They took in the Shedd Aquarium, the Field Museum of Natural History, Willis Tower, Medieval Times, the Blue Man Group, the Lincoln Park Zoo, the Hard Rock Cafe, Navy Pier, the Bean, bowling and a water park. It was a busy, educational, fun, exhausting, and well-deserved trip for this group after all of the extra work that they put in outside of the classroom! Thank you to everyone who purchased items in their annual fall magazine + product sale which helped them to raise some of the funds for their trips. The Color Guard

Advancing and Retiring The Colors

The color guard renders honors when the National Anthem is played or sung, when passing in review during a parade or in certain other circumstances. In these cases, the unit and departmental flags salute by dipping (leaning the flag forward). However, with the exception of a response to a naval salute, the United States national flag renders no salute. This is enshrined in the United States Flag Code and United States law.

Civilians are expected to stand at the position of attention with their right hand placed over their heart for the same period, and the salute applies to the uniformed organizations as well (especially the Scouts). Since recently, veterans are expected to salute the colors too, like their military counterparts including personnel not in uniform.
